

Literary Reference Plus

The world's most extensive literary reference resource

Available through
Explora

Need to write a paper about coming-of-age in Harper Lee's "To Kill a Mockingbird"? Searching for a full-text copy of "Hamlet"? Compiling critical essays to support your research on the works of John Steinbeck or Zora Neale Hurston? Look no further than Literary Reference Plus.

Available through the library website, Literary Reference Plus provides the most relevant and reliable information on thousands of authors and their works across literary disciplines and time periods.

With this database, you can...

- Search for articles by keyword or browse topic categories, such as authors, works, characters, themes, literary techniques and more
- Access complete text for thousands of classic novels as well as classic and contemporary short stories and poems
- Use interactive study guides to explore novels and plays by American and British writers
- Better understand the characteristics of different genres and writing techniques
- Hear HTML and PDF articles read aloud with EBSCO's Text-to-Speech feature
- Save articles to Google Drive, Microsoft OneDrive or your own personal MyEBSCO folder
- Use EBSCO's citation tool to properly cite sources in your research
- Discover thousands of articles, literary criticism essays, plot summaries, book reviews, author biographies and interviews