

COMING
SOON

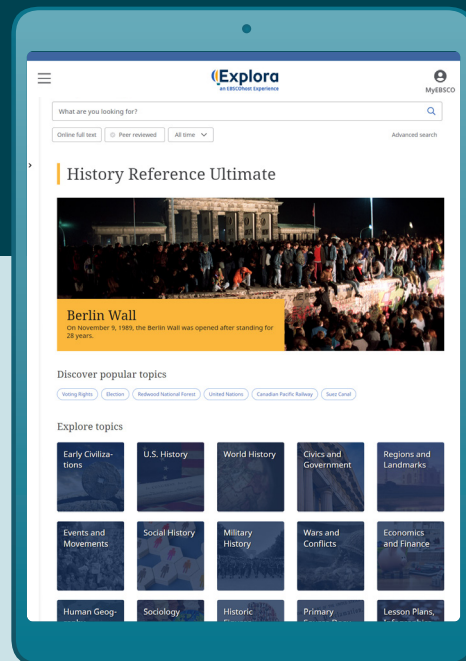

History Reference Ultimate

Chart a course through U.S. and world history

Covering ancient to modern times, History Reference Ultimate is a versatile research database for students, teachers and history buffs. It offers a rich collection of full-text magazines, journals, e-books, primary source documents and videos to enhance teaching and learning about topics in U.S. and world history, human geography, sociology, economics and more.

Key Content

- More than 860,000 full-text records from peer-reviewed journals, reference books, periodicals and other sources
- More than 93,000 full-text biographies of historical figures
- More than 56,000 full-text primary source documents
- Nearly 250 full-text magazines and journals, including All About History, Civil War History, Smithsonian, History Today, Vital Speeches of the Day, Archaeology and Natural History
- 2,080 full-text reference books, encyclopedias and nonfiction books, including volumes from Salem Press's Defining Documents, Great Lives from History and Great Events from History series as well as Bill of Rights, U.S. Supreme Court and Speeches of American Presidents 1789-2018
- 550 full-text e-books from top educational publishers
- Nearly 2,300 videos, including the Video Encyclopedia of the 20th Century as well as videos powered by Boclips from Crash Course, Newsy, The Economist and MakeMatic Untold

User-Friendly Research Experience via Explora

History Reference Ultimate offers comprehensive searching as well as a new visual browsing experience to help users find, narrow down, and focus their searches.

Additional features include:

- Text-to-speech for full-text articles
- Article translation in 100+ languages
- Ability to save content to Google Drive and Microsoft OneDrive
- Seamless integration with Clever, Google Classroom and top learning management systems
- Citation tool to help researchers properly format references

History Reference Ultimate is also compatible with EBSCOhost and EBSCO Discovery Service.